The most valuable English qualifications in the world

Each year over 3 million people choose Cambridge English exams to make their study, work or travel ambitions a reality.

Cambridge English

A range of exams to meet different needs

All Cambridge English exams are developed in accordance with the principles and approaches of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR), making it simple for employers, universities and other organisations to specify levels of language ability and easy for learners to choose the right exam.

University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations (Cambridge ESOL) was one of the organisations involved in the early development of this language benchmark, which is used internationally to describe language ability.

Cambridge ESOL remains at the heart of the development of the CEFR through being a key partner in English Profile – a research programme that will further develop the CEFR, providing detailed descriptions of learner English at each of the six levels.

Why Cambridge English?

Worldwide recognition

Universities, employers and government departments around the world rely on Cambridge English exams as proof of ability to live, work and study in an English-speaking environment.

Find out more at www.CambridgeESOL.org/recognition

Fair and reliable

We carry out detailed research and analysis of our exams and also of student performance to ensure all our exams are accurate, relevant and fair.

Rewarding achievements

We know it is important to recognise your achievement. Most Cambridge English exams are targeted at a specific CEFR level. Candidates demonstrating ability above the target CEFR level will receive a certificate showing that they have achieved a higher CEFR level. Candidates who do not achieve the target CEFR level but demonstrate ability at the level below, will receive a certificate showing their achievement at that level.

You can find more information about this by visiting

Cambridge English for Schools

Cambridge ESOL has produced three of its most popular exams in versions for younger learners.

These exams are at the same levels as the general versions and lead to exactly the same internationally recognised certificates – the only difference is that the exams feature content and topics targeted at the interests and experiences of school-aged learners.

- Cambridge English: First (FCE) for Schools – Level B2
- Cambridge English: Preliminary (PET) for Schools – Level B1
- Cambridge English: Key (KET) for Schools – Level A2
